

COMING SOON

CHILDHOOD EDUCATION INNOVATIONS

Childhood Education: Innovations provides unique, stimulating information about educational programs around the world.

Articles explore solutions to specific challenges affecting schools, teachers, and learners, and showcase the most recent innovations being developed and implemented to address those challenges.

Potential articles for the March/April 2021 issue:

Five Areas of Development

The system of education at The Royal Academy aspires to help learners (children and adults) actualize their innate potential across all Five Areas of Development - Social, Emotional, Spiritual, Physical, and Cerebral.

Writer's Workshop Maintaining Social Connection in Remote Learning

In the midst of a global pandemic, 100 students and one literacy coach created a committed and caring virtual writing community.

Empowering Teachers to Achieve

Improving education in Venezuela, the Amblema programs focuses on environment, reading, and math.

Interview With the Founder of CommunityShare

CommunityShare is a "Craig's List" type service for educators to help them find community members than can support learning.

What Skeleton Woman Can Teach Us About Learning and Growing Together

This thought piece explores the need to transform education to support children in more meaningful ways.

Connecting Beyond the Camps: Education Goes Digital in Kutupalong

Children on the Edge provide digital lessons for Rohingya refugee children in the Kutupalong camp.

A New Paradigm for Early Childhood Education: Opening Doors Through Virtual Kindergarten

A virtual pre-K for migrant children engages the children and families in a migrant farm-working community.

The Silver Lining: Education in a Post-Pandemic World

Trends and prospects for global education post-pandemic are explored, including post-COVID learning trends, with focus on effective online learning and how innovation in sustainable models in education can make education accessible to all.

Creating Classrooms: Supporting Front Line Educators in Emergency Contexts in Latin America

Experiential learning can help students explore, develop, and implement their social and emotional skills.

High Impact for Youth by Youth: Health and Education Programs in Southern Africa

An evidence-based program in health and education connects youth with proven life-saving information.

CE International and the authors reserve the right to postpone or cancel articles, if deemed necessary.

Become a Global Friend and access the publication today: <https://ceinternational1892.org/globalfriends>