

REFUGEE EDUCATOR FOUNDATIONS OF PRACTICE ONLINE COURSE PART 1

Deepening Connections & Building Conditions for Learning

Designed by and for educators, REFP is an online course embedded within a supportive virtual community of practice that will provide you with rich learning opportunities and immediately useful resources and methods to support refugee/immigrant learners.

October 23 - December 11

Registration closes Oct. 15

Course Topics

- Knowing our Students
- Culturally Relevant & Sustaining Pedagogies
- SEL and Trauma-Informed Practices

“ Take this course. It will provide you with the background information, strategies, tools and techniques to better serve your refugee student populations. ”

- 2020 participant

Participants come away with

- Strategies & tools to get to know and support refugee students' social, emotional and academic growth
- Guides & resources for Resettlement Agency education and mentoring programs
- Professional development ideas for district administrators and instructional coaches
- A professional network from around the country

Cost

- $150 (10% discount for teams of 5 or more)

Clock Hours & CEU/Credit Options

(please check with your district HR about requirements)

- 25 clock hours/CEUs
- Optional: 2.5 QTR credits available through UCSD Extension Program (fee: $137.50)

“ This course has been such a refreshing way to reignite my passion for teaching. ”

- 2021 participant

QUESTIONS?

For general inquiries, or to inquire about customizable professional learning opportunities and other refugee education program design needs, contact Sarah Bracken, Refugee Educator Academy Project Consultant and REFP Course Facilitator, at rea.support@careyinstitute.org or visit our website.

REGISTER
TODAY!

