Bright Futures for Every Child, Every Nation

Mission & Vision

Mission: To develop and amplify innovative solutions to education challenges that affirm children’s learning and development as the pathway to sustainable futures for all.

Vision: To elevate education and learning as the foundation of all aspects of human development and world progress.

About Us

Childhood Education International (CE International) has been advancing access to quality education for all since 1892. We are an international development organization focused on developing and amplifying solutions that lead to positive change in pre-primary and primary-age children’s learning and lives. We create programs and projects that support children so they can learn, grow, and develop optimally. We collaborate with teachers, education leaders, families, community leaders, health professionals, government agencies, the private sector, and civil society organizations.

WILL Action Framework

Our WILL Action Framework is the lens through which we approach our mission, vision, and goals to design and deliver programs and services that ensure children’s access to quality education worldwide. Each of the four components of the Action Framework is a critical individual and interconnected practice area that guides our work.

Well-Being

Children’s physical, mental, and emotional well-being supports their overall development and learning, which helps them grow and learn optimally.

Innovation

To address current challenges and prepare for the future, we must explore and implement innovative designs and delivery of education.

Leadership

Effective leaders listen, guide, and motivate others to use change as a positive force to explore innovation and inspire action.

Learning

Sustainable learning pathways create an empowered educator workforce equipped to tackle evolving education challenges.

Global Network

CE International works globally with an emphasis on local partnership and contextualization. Our diverse network of Country Leads and Regional Advisors bring broad and extensive experience to our team, as teachers, education administrators, university professors, representatives from government and non-governmental organizations, consultants, and other education specialists. CE International is also actively engaged with the United Nations and has UN representatives in New York, USA, and Geneva, Switzerland.

CE International's global reach includes professionals from all walks of life, all committed to providing access to a quality education for every child.

Country Leads

Our more than 35 Country Leads are a cadre of volunteer education specialists in their respective nations, each of whom works diligently to address the most pressing challenges faced by their fellow citizens and others around the globe.

UN Representation

In 1977, we gained consultative status with the UN through the Economic and Social Council (ECOSOC); in 2020, we became an NGO in official partnership with UNESCO (consultative status). We also have four UN representatives.

Our Affiliations

We maintain an active voice in sector conversations and policy development and explore project opportunities with our affiliations by maintaining frequent communication on critical education topics.

Services

We design and deliver programs, trainings, professional development, and consulting services that transform education and empower education leaders as changemakers.

Strategic Planning

We collaborate with you to design strategy plans for local education needs, national education plans, and international programs and practices, taking into consideration the local and global trends that are shaping education.

Training & Professional Development

We elevate your training and education programs through an international seal of recognition and/or our accreditation to provide continuing education units (CEUs), which award official credit for courses and trainings.

Advisory Services

We connect you with the right expert to provide advice and support in such areas as girls' education, access and equity in education, early childhood development, child protection, culturally and contextually responsive practice, etc.

Publications

Through our flagship publications, Childhood Education: Innovations (magazine) and the Journal of Research in Childhood Education, we invite readers to explore innovations in education delivery and policy, consider cutting-edge solutions to education worldwide, and discover research from around the world on a variety of education topics.
